

What is HOME to you?

A place where you are always welcome?

A place of comfort and safety?

A place where you can plan your future hopes and dreams?

A place where you can have privacy and alone time when you need it?

A place where you can live, learn and develop?

A place where you belong?

Quite often, we take home for granted

Can you imagine not having a secure home, not having the opportunity to talk to someone after a busy day or not to be able to plan for your future?

Imagine feelings of not belonging, imagine a life of Homelessness or living daily in a chaotic home, can you imagine not being able to have the opportunity to complete even the smallest goal, for some people this is a reality.

El'dad Home share provides the opportunity for a safe and nurturing environment, assisting individuals to live learn and develop, providing a person centered approach to empower those seeking independence and promote life skills for those who need assistance.

This is where you come in .....Have you ever considered making a significant difference in another person's life, we are looking for people who would like to open their homes and their hearts to provide Home share opportunities for adults with intellectual disabilities, if you would like to know more about this opportunities and the rewards.
